

THE MODERN WAGON

Constructed of I-beams, channels and angles, solidly riveted together with large rivets, put in hot. The gear parts and the wheels are braced and trussed like the modern steel railway bridge. In the DAVENPORT you have a wagon of

FIVE THOUSAND POUNDS CAPACITY

Stronger, more durable and of lighter draft than any other wagon of equal capacity.

The wheels of steel, with strong, round spokes, forged, solidly into the hubs and hot riveted into the tires, do away with the resetting of tires, loose spokes, and cracked felloes.

Constructed Alike

Fifty years ago, Wagons and Bridges were built of oak, hickory and maple. Now we know better, and use the strongest shapes of good steel, and build them for the heaviest lifetime service.

PRISONERS ARE RELEASED

IMMEDIATE BREAK WITH MEXICO AVERTED.

Whether War Has Been Prevented or Merely Postponed High Officials Are Unable to State.

Washington, June 28.—An immediate break between the United States and Mexico has been averted by compliance with the American demand for release of the twenty-three troopers captured in the fight at Carrizal.

Whether war has been prevented or merely postponed no one here would attempt to say tonight. Official information as to the attitude of Gen. Carranza was lacking. Until his response to Secretary Lansing's note, dispatched Sunday, making two peremptory and distinct demands is received, there will be no decision on whether President Wilson shall lay the crisis before congress.

News of the release of the prisoners, received early tonight in press dispatches, brought undisguised relief to high officials. It was accepted as correct, although no announcement had come through official sources.

While it generally is conceded that this move lessens tension and makes the crisis less imminent, no one conversant with the grave problem is losing sight of the fact that the all-important question of Carranza's attitude toward the American expedition across the border to protect territory and citizens of the United States from bandit outrages remains unsettled. If the de facto government stands upon the orders to Gen. Trevino to attack Pershing's men when they move otherwise than toward the border, the situation actually is what it was before, except that there now is a possibility of diplomatic negotiations that did not exist while the Americans were held prisoners at Chihuahua.

Farmers and Vacations.

Every farmer and every farmer's wife should take a vacation each year. Whether it be an automobile trip, a boat trip, a visit in the city, a week at a summer resort or the seaside, a journey to some distant point of interest or a visit to nearby relatives; the farmer has earned a vacation for himself, and he owes it to take his wife along.—American Farming.

NEW ONE ON PHILADELPHIA.

Old Told Tales of the City Have Nothing on This.

A stranger recently in Philadelphia on business bethought himself, in his friendless state, of a one-time casual acquaintance who had given as his address a Philadelphia club. From his hotel the visitor telephoned the club and asked if he might speak with Mr. John Doe. The telephone clerk asked the inquirer's name, and after a decent interval replied that Mr. Doe was not in the club.

The inquiry was then made whether Mr. Doe was in town and likely to be reached by a note sent to the club. The clerk politely regretted that he was not allowed to give any such information concerning a member of the club. The visitor protested and was finally allowed to speak to the secretary's office. He gave his name again and, in answer to what seemed an odd query, that of his hotel. He explained that the shortness of his stay in Philadelphia was the reason of his anxiety to know whether he was likely to get hold of Mr. Doe during it or not. The secretary also politely regretted his inability so to violate the privacy of any member's life.

The visitor, now vaguely feeling that he was being treated like a dun or a detective, protested in slight exasperation that his designs upon Mr. Doe were honorable and purely social; that indeed he felt so sure of Mr. Doe's desire to welcome him to Philadelphia as to be inclined to insist upon some disclosure of even a club member's whereabouts.

The secretary now grew the least bit weaker, moved either by an inner kindness or by some note of social authority in the visitor's voice, and at last grudgingly said that although the rules of the club were perfectly clear upon the point, he would, as a courtesy, consult one or two members of the board of governors who happened at that moment to be in the smoking room.

There was again a decent if tedious interval, and the secretary's voice was once more heard. He reiterated that it was contrary to the rules of the club to give information as to the whereabouts of any member, but that it had been decided that, in this special case, an exception might be made. He was pleased to inform the visitor that Mr. Doe had died in December of the preceding year.

PROFIT IN BLUE BERRIES.

Attention Being Given to Their Cultivation and Improvement.

The blueberry under cultivation gives promise of much improvement in size, quality and yield, and specimens eleven-sixteenths of an inch in diameter are noted by the United States department of agriculture as already not uncommon. As it gives profit on soil too acid for most agricultural purposes, the cultivated blueberry is expected soon to become of considerable importance. A plantation established in India in 1889 was located in a bog, which was drained, and was then planted with wild bushes with no special care in selection. In the last six years the average—in spite of the frost-killed crop of 1910—has been for each acre 1,741 quarts, netting a profit of $116.
